

Cruse Newsletter!

As a valued member of our community, we would like to offer you more than just the training webinars we have showcased in our previous emails and highlight all the free bereavement support resources we have to offer.

We would like to introduce our Training Newsletter, this quarterly email aims to provide you information on:

- Free bereavement support resources:
 - Cruse houses many free bereavement resources, which a lot of people are unaware of, especially helpful during this Bereavement week. The knowledge these resources provide can be utilised on a professional, but also personal level. Examples of these are:
 - Our Grief booklets, which you can download for free here >>
 - Learn about the impact of Grief here >>
- Latest news updates:
 - Giving you access to new bereavement research reports, covering the work Cruse is doing with organisations, and legislative news which may impact businesses, plus a lot more...

Bereavement Training Website Updates

Some of you may have already noticed, we have made some big changes to our Training website pages. This decision was made to make the process of finding all the bereavement training services we offer and options to book and enquire as simple as possible. You can view our new pages here >>

Latest News

Should we teach children about death in school?

NAFD President John Adams has launched a parliamentary petition calling for all school age children to be taught about death, dying and bereavement in schools as part of... Find out more here >>

Cruse report: Outcomes for bereaved people

A new report from Cruse Bereavement Support and the University of Birmingham shows benefits of support for bereaved people both in-person and over the telephone... Read the full report here >>

How to improve your organisations' bereavement processes: A webinar with Cruse and Vizolution

Cruse and Vizolution have hosted a joint webinar where we spoke about how organisations can implement better practices and process to improve your bereavement customer journey... You can watch the full webinar here >>

Signposting: Useful Resources Links

Find links to useful organisations working with a range of different grief experiences and specialised issues. Find out more here >>

Introducing Alison Winter: Corporate Partnership Manager

Hello everyone, I'm Ali, the new Corporate Partnerships Manager for Cruse. I am here to work with organisations of all shapes and sizes that share a passion for improving outcomes for bereaved people everywhere. I can work with you to develop a program of services to reflect your organisation's unique needs. Together, we can ensure bereaved colleagues, clients and customers are treated appropriately and compassionately with profoundly positive impacts for your workplace and reputation.

If you would like to arrange a conversation to find out what we can do together, have any feedback on this newsletter or any questions regarding our bereavement training, please email me at training@cruse.org.uk.

Kind Regards,

Alison Winter
Cruse Training Team

To subscribe please contact the central training team directly: training@cruse.org.uk